Postal Clerk A. W. Cardoza Taken Into Custody.

NEAT DETECTIVE WORK DONE.

Decoy Letter Was Sent and Marked Money, Was Found in Cardoza's Fosession-Held in Bail for Hearing.

Postoffice Inspector J. H. Irving yester-lay took into custedy A. W. Cardoza, a negro railway postal clerk employed on the Southern between Richmond and Danville, who is charged with tampering with the United States malls. The warrant was served by United States Marshal Morgan Treat, and Cardoza was held in $1,000 ball by Commissioner Flegenhelmer for a preliminary hearing at noon Saturday next. J. M. Benson was the bonds

NEAT DETECTIVE WORK. The apprehension of Cardoza was done by means of neat detective work on the part of Postoffice Inspectors Irving and Wilson. For a period extending over six months losses of mail matter have been months losses of mail matter have been reported to the postal authorities. These letters were in the majority of cases lost track of after they had been reported at stichmond or Danville, and with three exceptions they reached these points at night. Another noticeable fact was that eighteen out of the twenty-eight letters were addressed to women. Four weeks ago two packages of letters were sent over the Norfolk and Lynchburg railway postonice, and some of these letters bore evidences of having been opened. Both packages also had Cardoza's "facing slip" on them, showing that he had handled them. Last September Railway Postal Cerk Bayilso mosed a letter, and reported the loss to his superiors. An investigation was ordered, and on October 15th Inspector Wilson was instructed to aid Inspector Irving in his investigations.

DECOY LETTER SENT.

DECOY LETTER SENT.

The postmaster at Mattoax reported the inding of mail matter strewn along the Southern railway tracks near that town. Scraps of postoffice money-orders were found, but they could not be identified.

Inspector Irving, however, determined to send a decoy letter, and this letter was put in the Danville postoffice Tuesday night at 9 o'clock, and it was arranged to pass through Cardoza's hands. Two two-dollar silver certificates, bearing the inspector's private mark, were enclosed in the envelope which was addressed to Mrs. Suc M. Gray, Upper Zion, Caroline county. Va.

MARKED MONEY FOUND.

MARKED MONEY FOUND. MARKED MONEY FOUND.

This letter could not be found in the Richmond office, and Mr. Irving, accompanied by Mr. B. H. Russell, of the local office, went to Cardoza's house, in this city. They found him in bed, but he was made to dress and was searched. A marked two-dollar bill was found on his person. He was placed under arrest, and aier taken before United States Commissioner Flegenheimer.

Cardoza has a very bright complexion, and ft is stated that he has passed himself off as a white man several times.

The float was an exact representation of the regulation box freight car and the model chosen was the one used for reing powder to a wholeseale grocery firm. The car was No. 7825 of the Good Luck Fast Line and bore a close resemblance to the original. On the sides of the car were banners bearing the following: "This is a solid carlond of Good Luck Raking Powder for Boreland Powder Baking Powder for Borchard, Brasher &
